DISCLAIMER FOR POPULATION SCIENCE MANAGEMENT OF WORKING OWNERS

Population Science Management (PSM), a data analytics company dedicated to empowering individuals to financially benefit from the sharing their personal data, is actively hiring Consumer Data Respondents (CDRs).

As a CDR, you would provide insights into your health and consumer habits, and will be a member of PSM subject to the terms and conditions of the PSM Operating Agreement. You would become a “Working Owner” of the company.

One of the terms and conditions of Working Ownership is that you agree to share select data through our Covered365 app, available on both Apple App Store and Google Play.

As a Working Owner, you are expected to complete tasks as they arise, most of which consist of short but impactful surveys. The frequency of these requests varies depending on several factors and may range from once per quarter to as often as once per month during the first year. All surveys provide compensation, though amounts may vary, with some offering higher rewards than others.

Working Owners are eligible to participate in the company's employee benefit plans, including the single-employer self-funded ERISA group health plan (collectively referred to as “GigCare”) and other benefits made available to similarly situated Working Owners, contingent upon timely payment of health benefits contributions, the terms of the Operating Agreement, and the terms of the plan documents. Your contributions play a significant role in advancing our mission to improve health care, and we value the impact of your work.
